"The families who preserve wealth across generations don't do it by accident. They do it on purpose."

ABOUT

Lauren Rosa Miller is a 5th generation entrepreneur from a lineage of landowners and farmers spanning nearly 150 years — including Miller Farms, one of the largest Black-owned farms in the Southeast. She has not inherited theory. She has inherited responsibility.

Lauren has spent her entire career operating from within family enterprise. Trained under ownership at Pican, a celebrated fine-dining restaurant in Oakland, CA — where she managed events, marketing, and front-of-house operations — she then founded Can't Stay Put, a pioneering brand that cultivated a global community of 25,000+. She later stepped into the active work of transitioning her father's 35-year institutional consulting firm into its next generation.

As Chief Growth Officer of Miller3 Consulting, Inc., a second-generation institutional solutions firm with $20B+ in procurement spend analyzed across 30+ states and 250+ client engagements, Lauren brings a practitioner's command of what it takes to run, sustain, and transfer a family enterprise. She is not observing from the outside. She has been making decisions from the inside.

Through In The Room With Legacy and IRL Advisors, she works with HNW and UHNW families ready to move beyond financial planning into intentional legacy architecture — expanding the definition of wealth to include the values, relationships, and cultural capital that no estate plan captures but every family depends on.

SPEAKING TOPICS

- 01 THE ARCHITECTURE OF LEGACY: WHY WEALTH WITHOUT STRUCTURE DOESN'T SURVIVE THE THIRD GENERATION
Most families build wealth. Few build the systems, values, and relational infrastructure to sustain it. Lauren shows HNW/UHNW families what intentional legacy architecture looks like — and what it costs when it's missing.
- 02 THE ASSETS YOUR BALANCE SHEET MISSES: RELATIONAL, CULTURAL & SPIRITUAL WEALTH AS RISK MANAGEMENT
A reframe for wealth advisors and their clients — the intangible assets that determine whether a family holds together or fractures under the weight of a transition.
- 03 SUCCESSION IS NOT AN EVENT: BUILDING CONTINUITY INTO THE DNA OF A FAMILY ENTERPRISE
Drawn from years of operating and transitioning a second-generation firm — succession is not a document, it's a culture. Lauren shows what continuity planning looks like from the inside.
- 04 DON'T WAIT FOR A TRIGGER: THE CASE FOR RADICAL FAMILY INTENTIONALITY NOW
The families who navigate transitions well didn't start planning when crisis hit. Lauren makes the case — and provides the framework — for legacy conversations that begin before urgency forces them.
